Advance Units of British in Close Contact With Nazi Force

CAIRO, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Units of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's battered Afrika Korps fled westward from Tripoli today as the British 8th Army pressed at the heels of the Axis forces after overrunning Homs and Tarhuna in a two-pronged drive on the bomb-blasted Libyan port.

General Back-To-Work Movement Now Under Way

WILKES-BARRE, Jan. 21.—(INS)—A general back-to-work movement was under way today throughout the Pennsylvania coal fields as additional striking mine locals capitulated to the ultimatum of President Roosevelt and voted to return to the pits.

The Presidential ultimatum which ordered the strikers to end their walk out by one p. m. today was backed up by Gov. Edward Martin, who warned the strikers that he would not hesitate to call out the State Guard and State Police in order to force reopening of the mines. The wildcat strike already has caused the nation loss of more than 1,000,000 tons of hard coal.

Because of the sudden change in the miners' stand it appeared that the necessity for sending troops to the scene to take over operations may not develop.

A series of back-to-work resolutions adopted by various locals of the United Mine Workers union yesterday was culminated last night when the Woodward local of the Glen Alden Coal Company voted to end the 22-day-old walkout. The action of this local which has a membership of 1,600 was taken to mean that the strike had been virtually crushed.

The men are returning to work with the understanding that their protest over the 50-cent increase in dues will be considered in the regular channels. International officers of the United Mine Workers' Union also have given members a pledge they will seek a substantial wage increase at the expiration of the current contract in April.

Brown, New OPA Chief, Receives Detailed Reports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Sidestepping matters of policy and personnel for the moment, Price Chief Prentiss M. Brown today delved into the mysteries of being an "Administrator," received detailed reports from OPA division chiefs and heard the plights of Congress.

It figuratively was "open house" at OPA as the former Michigan Senator swung into the hottest domestic job in the wartime capital, warned by his predecessor—Leon Henderson—that business profits are too high, that the pressure on price ceilings is constantly growing and that the future demands a "more rigorous" policy of economic stabilization.

"I came in without any knowledge of administrative duties," Brown candidly admitted. "I want to spend most of my time in the next two weeks with studying the regulations. I've read some of them and they are very voluminous. I also intend to open the doors to the rest of this week to the members of Congress."

Past Commander Murray Becomes Post Adjutant

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 21.—Past Commander Richard J. Murray this week became adjutant of the Albert R. Atkinson, Jr., Post, No. 210, American Legion, at a meeting of the post held this week. He succeeds Eugene P. Townsend, who resigned when transferred in position to Harrisburg.

The meeting, which was in charge of the commander, Harry S. Hobensack, was featured by a detailed account of the Ninth District meeting held recently in Ardmore. This was given by Captain George C. Butler. Members were informed also that the tentative date for the official visit of National Commander Roane Waring has been set for April 11th. That meeting will likely be held at the headquarters of the post in Pottstown.

The membership in the district was announced by Captain Butler to be 2517. The district rates second in the State for membership.

Presenting a report of the local post's membership, Captain Daniel D. Atkinson announced that to date 124 members have paid their dues for the year.

Permanent Officers Are Named for Defense Ass'n

Permanent officers were elected and a constitution and by-laws adopted by the Citizens' Defense Association at a meeting held in Newport Fire Co. station, Newport Terrace, on Monday evening.

Ronald McCauley, who has been one of the most active members of the organization since its inception, was chosen to lead the group during 1943; while Russell Brownback was elected vice-president. Miss Evelyn Potts and Miss Ella May Potts were elected as secretary and assistant secretary, respectively. E. Paul Patton will act as treasurer.

The following men were elected as trustees to serve as follows: Robert F. Brenner, three years; Alfred Holden, two years; Raymond Burger, one year.

Walter H. Gillette, retired temporary chairman, who refused to be considered for any of the permanent offices owing to pressure of business, outlined the accomplishments of the association since its founding last fall, and after enumerating the numerous items of equipment purchased for the defense units, rendered a complete account of all expenditures and receipts.

Under the constitution and by-laws adopted, the future meetings are to be held on the first and third Mondays of each month.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring temporary officers for their untiring efforts in contributing to the successful establishment of the association.

Physician Vaccinated On His Right Cheek

SOUDERTON, Jan. 21.—The most conspicuous vaccination in the Bucks-Montgomery counties area is being sported by Dr. N. G. Allebach, local physician. It's on his right cheek and it's in full bloom.

The inoculation came purely by mistake. Dr. Allebach has been vaccinating people right and left recently, and his only theory is that he must have had vaccine on his finger or a piece of gauze and touched it to a scratch on his face. It "took" beautifully, while dozens of people, getting the full benefit of vaccine units directly on carefully scratched arms and legs, find that inoculation rolls off them like water off a duck's back.

PARENTS ADVISED ON GOOD HEALTH AND MENTAL BALANCE FOR THEIR CHILDREN; MISS G. BOWEN SPEAKS

HULMEVILLE, Jan. 21.—The pupils' need of good health and mental balance, and how such can best be achieved, formed the basis of a helpful address delivered by Miss G. Bowen, associate superintendent of Bucks County schools, when she appeared before members of Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association last evening.

Miss Bowen, introduced by President John Crowley, considered the needs of the girls and boys from various angles, particularly in the present trying times, and pointed out to the parents and teachers how they can best help the children to adapt themselves to their studies and at the same time aid in a program aimed at improving general health of the school group.

"Wise use of food is needed particularly under rationing. But there are advantages for there are some fine foods we had looked upon with lofty scorn previously. Meals should be planned carefully to give the family a well-rounded diet, and ration stamps should be used wisely so we may conserve wherever possible."

That children must also make sacrifices in the present emergency was another point stressed. "All our people are guaranteed life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and all have a right to satisfaction in their work, and an education which is fitted to their needs. . . . Children will be called upon to sacrifice. They must have a realistic view on the war, but we must not sacrifice them to the war. We should tell them sufficiently about conditions so they will be able to aid, yet not involve them too much. That is rather a contradictory statement."

DEMOCRACY SHOULD BE MADE TO WORK AT HOME

Otherwise Not Worth Fighting For It Abroad, Says W. P. Miller

ROTARY CLUB SPEAKER

ANDALUSIA, Jan. 21.—The address of Walter P. Miller, Philadelphia, before members of Bensalem Rotary Club at their weekly dinner meeting Tuesday evening, was met with much enthusiasm.

Mr. Miller, president of the Walter P. Miller Co., and vice-president of the National Paper Box Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia, is also a member of the "Committee of 70," in that city, which organization keeps "tabs" on local government.

Mr. Miller, who was introduced by his cousin, E. Paul Patton, a member of the Bensalem Club, told of activities of the "Committee of 70," a non-partisan organization. In introducing his subject he remarked to the Rotarians gathered that they and all individuals are in reality geniuses, when it is considered that a genius has been termed one who "indulges in habitual observation."

At the outset of his talk Mr. Miller observed that "It's hardly worth fighting for democracy abroad if we can't make it work well at home." He added that it is vitally necessary to make the most of democracy, to get the people to vote, to secure the most deserving individuals for office, and then to see that they conduct their office as efficiently as possible and free from corruption.

The one appearing before the club members told what his committee is interested in doing—improving local government. The objectives were mentioned, and Mr. Miller told that such can apply to any community.

The "Committee of 70" is desirous of reducing the number of members of Philadelphia city council to 11; and of raising the salaries of members to $7,500. "The purpose is to secure a high calibre individual in that type of job, one who would give full time to performance of his duties."

Another objective is to have election by proportional representation, and at this point he illustrated what the committee has in mind along this line. He explained how preferential ballots would be counted, adding that with elimination of the primary, expense would be saved, and all effort and expense would be focused on the one "run" instead of two. "Thus there would be assurance of a powerful and vociferous minority," he added.

Mr. Miller explained how the budget for the city of Philadelphia is prepared, and mentioned how more thought and consideration on preparation of such would mean a great saving.

FILIPINO, CASUALTY OF LUZON, SERVING AS WAR PLANT GUARD

"Cracking Back" at "Japs" By Doing His Bit in The United States

LOST HIS FORE-ARM

Was On Firing Line 15 Days; Knows Nothing of Family's Whereabouts

Narciso Ragados, a casualty of the battle of Luzon, is "cracking back" at the "Japs" in a far different manner than he did in the hectic days of December, 1941, but he is pleased to find a place on the production front in America as it were.

There is a long story of stiff battles, bloodshed, loss of a limb, worry at the fate of his loved ones, and what the future might hold—and it covers a period from early December, 1941, to the present.

But today, with an artificial hand replacing his right hand and part of his right forearm, he is serving as a guard at the two plants of Fleetwings, Inc., here.

Trying to keep busy and to continue serving the cause of freedom, Ragados nevertheless finds it hard to keep thoughts of his parents, his wife, his two small boys, two sisters and six brothers from coming into his mind. "Where are they?" "Is all well with them?" These are questions he would like to have answered.

Another sorrow that is hard to forget is the burning to death during the battle of Luzon of his best friend, his captain and his sergeant. "Yes, many were burned to death by incendiary bombs, or killed outright all around me," he says in broken English as he attempts to picture that awful holocaust.

It was on the 18th of December, 1941, that Ragados was injured by a bomb tossed from an airplane. He walked one-half mile to the nearest casualty service station for treatment. He also sustained a slight hip injury.

For 15 days, in all, he was on the firing line at Luzon, and in that period of more than two weeks he and the countless other defenders could scarcely eat or sleep. Right in the thick of it, he saw his comrades fall all around him.

Ragados was one of 300 men taken out of Luzon on a casualty ship and landed at Sydney, Australia, where they were hospitalized. Later he and 39 other Filipino soldiers, all with limbs missing, were brought to United States, and given hospital treatment at Continued On Page Two

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Enemy Objectives in Burma Raided

New Delhi—British and American bombers heavily raided enemy objectives in Burma last night, the R. A. F. striking a hard blow at the Japanese airbase at Tounoung, 150 miles north of Rangoon, and the Americans blasting Thazi in the south, near the mouth of the Irrawaddy River.

Big American bombers hammered railroad targets at Thazi, scoring many hits on a rail junction and storage sheds and starting large oil fires, a United States Army Air Corps communique reported today.

British bombers also started many fires when their bombs burst on a main runway and dispersal areas of the Tounoung airport, the British India Command announced.

Aircraft Carrier Christened by Mrs. Roosevelt

Newport News, Va.—Christened by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the 25,000-ton aircraft carrier Yorktown today slid down the ways as Artemus L. Gates, Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Air, emphasized the important part that American "flat tops" are playing in the war.

With the new carrier breaking the waves to replace the original 19,900-ton Yorktown, lost in the Midway battle last June when American forces smashed a Japanese armada of 58 ships, Gates disclosed that ship-based U. S. planes silenced the guns of the French battleship Jean Bart during the Allied invasion of North Africa.

SNEEZE, BROTHER, SNEEZE

In Chicago at the annual meeting of the Congress of Industrial Health, Dr. Chester S. Keefer, Wade professor of medicine at the Boston University School of Medicine, has given out sad tidings. The Council of Industrial Health of the American Medical Association has been studying the common cold. As spokesman for this group, Doctor Keefer confesses that so far all efforts to prevent colds have been futile.

Experimenting with various vaccines, the group found that they give little or no protection against respiratory diseases. "Hardening" of the patient is also ineffective. Cold showers, long walks in the fresh air
will not build immunity to a disease which ranks very high in nuisance value and is responsible for more days lost in factories and schools than could be counted.

Doctor Keefer comes back to hygienic methods as the best preventive. "We are forced to the unhappy conclusion that at present there are no effective methods available for prevention of the common cold. Every effort should be made to practice hygienic measures, such as washing the hands before meals and avoidance of persons who have colds."

Prompt self-isolation of a person with a cold, careful care of those busy carriers, the hands, will cut down the spread of the disease. If a man is doomed to sneeze, off and on all winter, then let him remember to sneeze into handkerchief or tissue.

In the meantime, Dr. Keefer recommends vitamins on general principles. They may not prevent a person catching cold, but they do correct "deficiency states."

CHARGING THE JURY

Suppose a judge should say in charging a jury:

"Remember that this is just another chapter in the long history of strife and bickering between comfortable, well-fed law enforcement officers on one side and needy high-waymen, burglars and pickpockets
on the other. Remember that the defendant, Zilch, is one of the have-nots and that he felt he was forced to use his brass knuckles on the complaining witness before the latter could call a policeman who might have hit Zilch's head with a club—
and that the defendant, therefore,
has a reasonable plea of self-defense.
Remember, furthermore, that Zilch has repudiated the leadership of Adolf Squibb, former master-mind
of his gang."

"I charge you, therefore, gentlemen of the jury, not to bring in a verdict of revenge against the defendant, Zilch. I charge you rather to bring in a verdict which will make for lasting peace by giving the defendant, Zilch, the same access to bank vaults, cash registers, etc., as now is accorded to the legal owners of such repositories of treasure. Only thus can the defendant, Zilch, and these police officers, against whom he has an ancient and understandable grudge, live peaceably side by side in our fair city."

If a judge read a charge like this to a jury, there would be an overwhelming disposition to favor heavily him off the bench so fast that his judicial robes would ignite on the way out. But already statesmen, publicists and what not are reading
a charge of that sort to the jury which eventually must try Europe's yegg nation, Germany.

Rommel's Battered Korps Flees West From Tripoli

miles southeast of Tripoli, and Homs, 65 miles east on the coastal road, were seized by rapidly advancing British columns yesterday.

Parents Advised On Health For Their Children

The address was preceded by a covered dish supper in the cafeteria, with over 40 participating. Donations for the supper and from the collection of the evening totalled $17.15. This amount will be used toward cafeteria improvements.

The business meeting was conducted following Miss Bowen's speech. Harry Ferrell led in the salute to the flag. The sixth and eighth grades won the attendance award. It was announced that prizes were awarded to the class-room groups having the largest percentage of contributions on the parts of parents in the cafeteria improvements. This included actual work of renovation, money or equipment donations, etc. Sixth and eighth grades won, receiving an award of $2.50. One dollar prizes were given the other class-rooms, the money in each instance to be used for supplementary reading material or for equipment the pupils desire. The points gained by the grades in the work follow: Grades six and eight, 130; grades two and three, 110; grades four and five, 50; grade seven, 25; grade one, 25. The sixth and eighth grades decided they would like to return the prize money to the P. T. A. in order that the improvements might continue.

Miss Sally Jones read the minutes of the evening, and presented the treasurer's report in the absence of Samuel Brehant. Mrs. John Corrigan reported the sum of $12.20 collected at the supper, with the cash donations later bringing the total to $17.15. It was announced that through Mrs. Hilda Wunsch the Morning Star Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Bristol, had donated several dozen plates, cups and saucers for the cafeteria.

Mrs. Willard Bartoe reported on the school health program. Called upon by the president who told of Mrs. Bartoe's excellent leadership in the cafeteria activities, she mentioned the fine cooperation of women of the community in preparing and serving lunches to more than 80 daily. The need of services of at least two women daily, from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 or four p. m., was mentioned. It is asked that those who can assist one or two days monthly contact Mrs. Bartoe or other members of the P. T. A. who are aiding in the work.

Mr. Goll reported on renovations made by the men to the cafeteria. He informed the members that a South Langhorne building equipment firm has donated sufficient lumber to build two cabinets in the cafeteria, the value of the goods being $25.

Consideration was given to necessary improvements to the recreation room to place it in condition as a play-room for pupils in inclement weather, also for use as an air-raid shelter. Possibility of heating such is to be taken up with the school directors.

Used Farm Machinery Is Put Under Price Control

All sales of five critical used farm machines, whether made by dealers, auctioneers, or farmers themselves, have been placed under price control by OPA, according to information received by Russell K. Edwards, chairman of the Bucks County USDA War Board. This action is designed to relieve farmers from paying excessive prices resulting from rapidly increasing demand.

The machines covered are used farm tractors (except crawler tractors), combines, corn pickers, corn binders, and motor or tractor operated hay balers.

Generally, the maximum prices are 70 per cent and 95 per cent of the list or base prices for the same new equipment, depending on the condition of the equipment when resold.

Private owners and auctioneers may not sell used tractors, combines, corn pickers, corn binders and hay balers less than one year old for more than 85 per cent of the base price, and not more than 70 per cent of the base price for such machines more than one year old. The same ceilings apply to sales of these five machines by dealers, except where such machines have been reconditioned and guaranteed for a thirty-day period. In this case the ceiling price is 95 per cent of the base price. Dealers may add actual transportation charges to their maximum prices in sales involving movement of the machines more than 100 miles.

A recent study of prices at farm auctions show instances where sellers obtain as much as 100 per cent profit for equipment several years old.

About 70 per cent of the dealer's income this year will be from sales of used equipment, parts and repair services, and the total volume of such sales will exceed the $320,000,000 sold in 1941.

Although the ceiling placed on used equipment sales was the major feature, the amendment also makes several important changes in the provisions of the regulation dealing with transportation allowances for new equipment, distributors' handling charges, and maximum prices for new equipment not having suggested retail prices.

With respect to used equipment, the amendment treats separately the sales made (1) by an individual or auctioneer (2) by a dealer and (3) by a service dealer. The ceiling prices in these three cases are expressed as percentages of "base prices."

In order to ascertain the base price for an item of equipment, sellers are required to use the manufacturer's suggested list price f. o. b. factory which is currently in use or which has been issued. Where no such list price exists, the seller may use for his base price the price at which the item, itself, or the most nearly equivalent item would be sold by dealers in the locality, less the carload freight from the factory.

In addition to the limits imposed by ceilings on the five listed machines, dealers are further restricted as to prices they may charge for all used machines which are resold without the dealer's guarantee. In such cases, the dealer may never add more than the larger of $15 or a 5 per cent markup to the trade-in allowance, purchase price or balance due (where repossessed) in addition to the reconditioning costs. When, however, he reconditions and guarantees the machine he may add a markup of 25 per cent or $15, whichever is larger, in addition to the costs of reconditioning. Thus a premium has been placed on the rebuilding of used farm equipment.
